Safe Harbor Statement under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995

With the exception of historical information, certain matters discussed in this press release, including obtaining stockholder approval, closing the sale of ACC, paying debt and executing on our strategic plan, are all forward looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act. The actual future results of EMRISE could differ from those statements. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to, whether the Company can obtain stockholder approval for the sale of ACC on a timely basis or at all, whether the buyer of ACC will choose to terminate the stock purchase agreement before closing such transaction, whether the Company can successfully negotiate any further needed extensions to its credit facility with its lender, if needed, unforeseen factors that might prevent the closing even if stockholder approval is obtained, the ability to complete additional strategic initiatives, the terms, conditions and timing of such events, whether such events will result in the ability of EMRISE to eliminate a large majority of its debt; whether these efforts will result in increasing value for its stockholders and other stakeholders; unforeseen technical issues, unforeseen changes in customer demand, unforeseen delays in receipt of materials from our vendors, inability of our products to meet customer specifications, and changes in the economic, industry or political climate that may negatively impact demand for our future products. The Company refers you to those factors contained in the "Risk Factors" Section of EMRISE's Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009, Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended March 31, 2010, its Current Reports on Form 8-K filed in recent months, and any amendments thereto, and other EMRISE filings with the SEC.
